

Photography • Website Consulting • Digital Marketing

My Services

Photography

I've been a professional photographer for over twenty years, working across various styles including weddings, events, portraits, and commercial photography.

I enjoy helping people document important moments in their lives, whether that's a wedding day, a family gathering, or professional headshots. For businesses, I provide quality product photography that clearly represents what you offer.

From outdoor family sessions to studio product shoots, my goal is to create honest, meaningful images that serve your needs.

Website Consulting

I help people create new websites or improve existing ones through practical, manageable steps.

My approach focuses on breaking down your website project into clear phases that make sense for your goals and budget. Whether you're starting from scratch or refreshing your current site, I'll guide you through the process without unnecessary complications.

I work with you to develop a realistic plan that addresses your specific needs, helping you achieve an effective website without the overwhelm that often comes with these projects.

Digital Marketing

I provide practical online marketing support for small businesses and specific campaigns.

My services include setting up and managing Google Ads campaigns, creating targeted social media promotions on platforms like Facebook and Instagram, and developing straightforward marketing strategies that make sense for your business.

I focus on creating clear, actionable plans that drive relevant traffic to your website and help you reach your specific business goals. My approach emphasizes practical solutions rather than complicated marketing jargon.